Willow Planting at Nursery
Saturday, March 31, 2012

Five volunteers are needed to help plant willow cuttings into pots where they will continue to grow throughout the summer and be ready for planting in the ground next season. Come learn about vegetative propagation from Rich Marovich, Putah Creek Streamkeeper, and how willows benefit wildlife in Putah Creek.

Event will be at Putah Creek Council’s native plant nursery at 5800 Chiles Road in Davis.

When March 31st, 2012 9:30 AM through 12:00 PM

Do your knees shake at the mere thought of giving a presentation? Would you like your presentations to be more effective? You’re not alone! Public speaking is the number one fear in our country. Learn how to hone your speaking skills, whether making a presentation to co-workers, clients, funders, or the public. You will learn how to: understand the qualities of effective speakers; identify 3 key elements of presentation; assess your audience; prepare an effective presentation; choose appropriate language and content; manage your nervousness; use your voice and body language effectively; and practice and evaluate your presentation skills. This workshop will include hands-on exercises and skills practice. Participants will be videotaped and will receive constructive feedback from the trainer and classmates in a supportive environment.

Event Price Level(s):

The Real Question
Do you want to tether your fortunes to a closed platform from a commercial vendor?

OR

Do you want to involve your whole organization in an implementation process which gives you total control, allows you to take part in a vibrant open-source community, but comes with maintenance responsibilities and potentially high cost?
